27th Annual Rolls Down Joor Road Saturday

Christmas Parade

By Woody Jenkins

Is business just about business? Retired business billboard company owner Hank Henagan says the best way to be successful in business is to place your values at the core of your business.

“Following the business principles found in the Bible will lead to success and happiness,” Henagan told the Chamber of Commerce of East Baton Rouge last Tuesday. Henagan is now the Marketplace Minister at Bethany Church.

Henagan, who has taught Dave Ramsay’s Financial University, says one of the first steps is getting out of debt. For more, see Hank Henagan on Page 8.

Central Wildcats End Season As Regional 5A Champions

CENTRAL — Victory was within Central’s grasp with one minute left in last Friday’s quarterfinal 5A playoff game against Covington. The Wildcats were behind 20-14 but were marching toward the goal line. Then, with 3rd down on Covington’s 20 yard line, Central’s Jarrad Hayes threw an interception, which stopped the drive and ended the Wildcats’ hope for a trip to the State 5A Championship at the Superdome in New Orleans. Nevertheless, Central ended the season with a sparkling record of 11-2, including 6-0 in district play, its sixth straight District 4-5A title, and the Regional 5A championship. Perhaps most impressive was its 14-0 shutout of West Monroe in the Regional Playoffs. See Page 16.

Mayoral Candidates: Poles Apart On Issues Facing City of Central

Jr. Shelton
 Candidate for Mayor

CENTRAL — The two announced candidates for Mayor in April 5, 2014, municipal elections are poles apart on many issues facing the City of Central.

Candidate Dave Freneau has made controversial statements before the City Council on the proposed Baton Rouge Loop, CH2MHill, access to public records, and City Council reapportionment. Candidate Jr. Shelton has often taken the opposite side.

After she passed away on Sunday morning, some of the nurses were crying. “She was so sweet to us,” one said. “She made us feel so special!” They thought they were there to minister to her, but she ended up ministering to them.

Follow Your Heart: Spend Time with Those You Love

Lay Down Beside Her, Hold Hands, Talk About Happy Times from Past

Sunday, Nov. 17, 2013. I took this photo of my mama Friday afternoon at Our Lady of the Lake Hospital. It was her last photo. She is holding a rose I brought her from my wife Diane’s garden. Mama said, “Oh, it smells so good!” Mama passed away this morning around 7:30 a.m., and the day has been completely filled making arrangements. Only now have I been able to sit down and think through some of the events that occurred over the past few days. There’s one thing that happened WEDNESDAY NIGHT that I want to tell you about. It is something which may be of some benefit to you. I will come back to it in a moment. On Thursday, I woke up at 7 a.m. and went to check on my mom in her little apartment in our house. She was in a distressed condition and had been vomiting bile. I tried to get her to the bathroom to clean her up but she was too weak to get out of bed, even with my help. Something was terribly wrong. So I called 911. They got her to OLOL and found that she had had a serious heart attack. They warned me that further heart events could happen over the next 48 hours. Nevertheless, she rested well in the hospital over the next three days. She was comfortable and had no pain. I visited her several times, and she was her normal self, happy and talkative. But her doctors were very concerned because her heart capacity had been reduced from 53 percent to 29 percent as a result of the first heart attack. On Saturday night, my daughter Margaret got to visit her grandmother in the hospital, and Margaret was very pleased with her progress. “I was amazed with how well she felt!” Margaret said. “She was so lucid, nothing like what I expected after a major heart attack.” The two of them, who are soulmates, had a wonderful visit. But this morning, I received an anxious call from the nurse at 4:56 a.m., telling me to rush to the hospital, that my mama had had a serious setback. When I got there, I couldn’t believe the scene. Mama had obviously had another heart attack or perhaps a stroke. She was breathing but her face was frozen, and she was unresponsive. Her eyes were open but she didn’t blink. She was struggling to breathe. She didn’t respond in any way to my voice. She couldn’t speak or squeeze my hand. She seemed completely paralyzed. We moistened her lips and tried to make her comfortable. I was holding her hand and talking to her the entire time. Over the next hour and an half, she quietly passed away. It was so difficult to watch her. Yet, I am so glad I could be there with her, so she did not have to face it alone. Now, I reflect back on WEDNESDAY NIGHT, and I realize that was our last time together at home.

Here’s what happened: I went to my mama’s room in our house to check on her, and she was doing fine. As usual, she was talkative and happy. She needed to go to the bathroom. We chatted briefly, I helped her to the bathroom and put her back in her bed. “Well, mama, I’ve got to go somewhere! I’ll check on you later. I love you!” I was walking out the door. But she said, “Wait, can’t you stay awhile and visit?” I said, “No, mom, I’ve got to run but we can visit tomorrow for sure!” This was the critical moment! I stopped and turned. My heart told me, “Where are you going that’s so important?” “What if there is no tomorrow with your mama?” So I told her, “Yes, mama, I think I will stay awhile!” I slipped into bed next to her. We lay on our backs, holding hands, laughing and telling stories. She told me about the time my uncle Sherwood (who was at least as handsome as Clark Gable) brought his new wife and my grandmother Dora Jenkins from Folsom, LA, to Houston to meet mama’s parents, Fred and Beatrice Rowlett. The year was 1944, the war was going on, and Uncle Sherwood was a lieutenant in the U.S. Army. The Rowlett house on Edgewood Street in Houston was filled with Jenkins family from Louisiana — their first-ever meeting. It was a meeting that I never knew had happened! Then we talked about the only Jenkins family reunion ever held while I was growing up — an all-day event at our house in Rougon in 1953 when I was six. Everyone from the Jenkins family was there — my grandma Dora Jenkins, her three sons Ory, Bailey, and Sherwood, and her daughter Alma, plus all the wives and children. Everyone had a wonderful time, but there was one quite remarkable thing that happened during that reunion! My grandma Jenkins walked in the front door and saw the piano my dad had bought me for piano lessons. She walked right up to the piano, sat down, and began playing beautifully. She played any song we could think of. Everyone was clapping and laughing hysterically. It seems none of her children knew she could play the piano! She had never played in front of them. Furthermore, she could not read music. She was totally self-taught and played by ear. Everyone was totally astounded! I marveled at the story. Mama and I talked awhile longer and then dozed off, still holding hands. We woke up awhile later and talked some more. I kept thinking, “What questions would I want to ask mama if she weren’t around anymore?” And those are the questions I asked. It was a wonderful time that I wouldn’t trade for a $1 million! What if I had decided to go to that meeting, instead of lingering with my mama? It’s funny, I cannot for the life of me remember what was so important I had to do that night! So my advice is FOLLOW YOUR HEART! When your heart says spend time with the people you love, do it! There may never be another chance!

Doris Rowlett Jenkins, 91, Mother and Grandmother

Doris Rowlett Jenkins

Doris Rowlett Jenkins, 91, passed away Sunday morning, Nov. 17, 2013, at 7:30 a.m. at Our Lady of the Lake Hospital, where she was recuperating from a heart attack. She was born March 4, 1922, in Houston, Texas. She was a loving mother, grandmother, great-grandmother, and friend to many. She is survived by her son, former Rep. Louis E. “Woody” Jenkins, Jr., and his wife Diane Aker Jenkins; grandchildren Margaret Jenkins Savoye and her husband Darren of Jefferson, LA; Elizabeth Ann Jenkins of Denver, CO; David Aker Jenkins of Baton Rouge, and Catherine Ann Jenkins of Baton Rouge; great-grandchildren Gabrielle, Louis Joseph, and James Sawyer Savoye of Jefferson, LA; and nephews and nieces Gordon and Jan Jenkins; Edward, Randall, and Mark Rowlett, and Anita Rowlett Hopkins. She was preceded in death by her parents Frederick Putnam

Rowlett and Beatrice Eernisse Rowlett of Houston, Texas; her brother, Walter Rowlett, of Houston and her husband, Louis E. “Ory” Jenkins, Sr., of Ponchatoula and Baton Rouge. Doris grew up in Alvin and Shreveport. She attended Byrd High School and graduated from Alvin High School in 1940. During World War II, she met a handsome sailor who was recovering from war injuries at the Galveston Naval Hospital. They fell in love and married in 1946. They resided in Ponchatoula where they owned a restaurant, Little Ory’s Den, before moving to Houston and then Baton Rouge. Ory was an operator at Ethyl Corporation, and Doris worked in safety deposit at American Bank on Plank Road. She retired from the bank in 1982 after 25 years’ service. She was affectionately known as “G” by her grandchildren and their friends at Parkview. As a child, she had red hair and was known by the nickname “Pinky”. She loved to wear a red hat and a red cap, which was perfect when she played Mrs. Santa Claus for children in her later years.

She has lived with her son Woody and daughter-in-law Diane for the past 27 years, and they cared for her during the many health problems she has endured for the past 15 years. Despite those, she maintained a clear mind and humorous wit until this weekend. She was recovering from a heart attack and doing well Saturday, but her condition declined early Sunday, and she passed away. She has written an autobiography, A Bouquet of Wild Violets, which will be published in the spring of 2014 by Community Press. It is a humorous collection of her writings from the 1920’s to the present. Funeral services were held Wednesday Resthaven Funeral Home, 11817 Jefferson Hwy., Baton Rouge. Services were conducted by Lt. Arron McGuffee, Chaplain, USN. Her niece, Anita Rowlett Hopkins sang at the funeral and at graveside. Pallbearers were Col. Gordon Jenkins, Freddie Koch, Dr. Bill Hopkins, Sen. Dan Richey, Jeff Angers, Daniel Duggan, Darren Savoye, and Saul Newsom.

Pro-Family Leader Says Israel Will Not Allow a Nuclear Iran

BATON ROUGE — Just back from Israel, where he met with Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu, former Rep. Tony Perkins said leaders he met with in Israel are distrustful of President Obama and question his commitment to the security of Israel.

Perkins spoke at the Ronald Reagan Newsmaker Luncheon in Baton Rouge.

Perkins organized a Congressional delegation to the Middle East, which included Congressmen Steve Scalise of Louisiana, chairman of the Republican Study Committee; Jim Jordan, former chairman, James Langford, Michele Bachmann, Ted Poe, and others.

“Israel greatly appreciates the aid it receives from the United States,”

Perkins said, “but they are not going to leave it to us to take care of their security needs.”

“Iran is not just a problem of Israel,” he said, “it’s also a problem of the United States. Obama and Kerry do not understand the Mullahs’ obsession with obtaining nuclear weapons.”

“Netanyahu is not going to telegraph his intentions. Israel is a cool actor. Netanyahu may be the Winston Churchill of our day.”

Perkins, who is now president of the Family Research Council in Washington, resides in Central and commutes to Washington on Monday evenings and returns on Thursday nights. He is often seen on Fox News and other networks, and he has a daily nationwide radio talk show.

A former Marine, Perkins said he is very concerned that the Obama administration is assaulting the religious liberty of American servicemen and women. “It’s far different from when I served in the Ma-

Perkins’ group has formed a website called www.militaryfreedom.org to monitor violations of religious liberty of military personnel by the Obama administration.

Perkins, who served in the state house for eight years, has been urged to run for Congress, and he said he is considering it.

Surviving Delegates to CC/73 Gather

AGREE TO DISAGREE — Key participants in the Louisiana Constitutional Convention of 1973, or CC/73, all of whom supported adoption of the new constitution, disagree about how it all happened. Gov. Edwin Edwards, 2nd from left, said he wouldn't want to see another constitutional convention today because the mood is too conservative. Shown (left to right) are former House Speaker Bubba Henry, the convention chairman; Gov. Edwards, who asked the legislature to call the convention; Beth Courtney, president of Louisiana Public Broadcasting; former Gov. Buddy Roemer, then a delegate from Bossier Parish; former Rep. ## Key Participants Reminisce About How They Wrote New Constitution

BATON ROUGE — The Louisiana Constitutional Convention of 1973, or CC/73 as it was called, was in session from late 1972 to early 1974. After months of research, hard work, controversy, and compromise, the delegates agreed upon a proposed new state constitution, which was submitted to the voters and ratified by them in April 1974. That constitution, which is still in effect, is called the Louisiana Constitution of 1974.

Of the original 132 delegates to the convention, only about 40 are still alive. The convention's chairman, former House Speaker Bubba Henry, has been working to locate those surviving delegates, who are being invited to a reunion at 3 p.m. on Saturday, Jan. 11, 2014, at the World War II Museum in New Orleans.

In late November, about 25 of the former delegates gathered at the LSU School of Journalism for the taping of a one-hour television special on CC/73. The eight panelists on the program were former Gov. Edwin Edwards, who asked the legislature to call the convention; and former Gov. Buddy Roemer, Senate President John Alario, former House Speaker Bubba Henry, Federal Court of Appeal Judge Jim Dennis, former Reps. Johnny Jackson and Woody Jenkins, and Mary Zervigon, all of whom served as delegates. Louisiana Public Broadcasting president Beth Courtney served as master of ceremonies. effect of the constitution and whether a new constitution is needed.

Only Senate President John Alario expressed a desire to undertake major constitutional reform and perhaps a convention. Other former delegates agreed that specific articles could be reformed without opening up the entire constitution for debate.

Former Gov. Edwards said the time is not right for another convention because the mood is too conservative, and he fears the results.

The delegates agreed that the most significant part of the new Louisiana Constitution is the Declaration of Rights, which broke new ground is the protection of individual liberty. ## Former Lamar Exec Has Ministry to Business

Henagan Says Biblical Principles Can Be Key to Success in Business

Henagan:
It All Starts
With Being
Out of Debt

BATON ROUGE — In the mid-1990's, Hank Henagan was a successful small businessman. After a career at Lamar Advertising, he had started his own billboard company, which served the suburban parishes surrounding Baton Rouge. But Henagan soon realized that he had built a house of cards, because it was all based on debt — more than $700,000 in debt that would be almost impossible to repay.

Last Tuesday, Henagan told members of the Chamber of Commerce of East Baton Rouge what he did next.

Henagan's accountant said he needed a plan. "I realized that what the Bible says is correct. In Proverbs 22:7, it says, 'The rich rule over the poor, and the borrower is servant to the lender.' I didn't want to be my banker's servant anymore." So he drove to Atlanta and attended a seminar by Larry Burkett called Business by the Book.

Burkett told him exactly what his pastor, Larry Stockstill, had said, "Let no debt remain outstanding except to love one another."

"I developed a plan to get out of debt in eight years. I sold half my business and took a job to earn extra income. We sold our 4,000 square foot home and moved into a 600 square foot home. Our time in that little house was the best time of our lives," he said. A few years later, he was debt-free.

"The Book says, 'Seek ye first the kingdom of God and all things will be added to you as well,'" he said. "It also says, 'Lean not on your own understanding.'"

"Today 60 percent of all businesses are so dependent on borrowed money that a slight increase in interest rates would make them unprofitable."

Henagan said the Bible is filled with instructions for business owners and that if a person follows those, he will be successful.

He said the Bible establishes six "basic minimums" that every business should meet:

- Reflect Christ in your business. Luke 16:10 says that if you are faithful in little things, you will be trusted with larger things.
- Be accountable. Establish real checks and balances. Especially be accountable to your spouse. But don't be "unequally" yoked with a non-believer.
- Provide a quality product at a fair price.
- Honor your creditors. If you cannot pay, that is one thing. "But do not withhold from creditors that which is due when it is in your power to do it."
- Treat employees fairly and never show favoritism.
- Treat customers fairly.

Henagan warns business owners not to allow them-

Bill Simon of Simple Simon Tires and Jim Hogg

Business owners Rick Blackstone and Carol Thomas selves to be in "business bondage." He said, "This is over-dedication to your work. You can't serve God and Mammon." Henagan said these are signs of business bondage:

- Having an air of superiority. This is wrong
- Overwork. "God grants sleep to the ones He loves."
- Excessive use of credit and preoccupation with debt-related problems.
- Disorganization.
- A Get-Rich-Quick mentality. This is epitomized by getting involved in things you don't know anything about, risking money, and hasty decisions.

John D. Rockefeller said the formula for financial success is simple: Tithe 10 percent, save 10 percent, and live on 80 percent.

Henagan told members of the Chamber EBR,

"Winston Churchill said we make a living by what we get, but we make a life by what we give."

"Remember this: If I take the attitude that the business is not mine but God's and that I am simply His caretaker, I can have unlimited success."

Henagan is associate pastor at Bethany Church and heads the Marketplace Ministry, which holds a luncheon for businessmen every Wednesday at Bethany's south campus. He can be reached at 293-2100.

Membership in the Chamber of Commerce of East Baton Rouge is open to business owners in East Baton Rouge Parish. ## BR Publisher Expanding Scene, Glossy Entertainment Publication

BATON ROUGE — BIC Magazine — America's largest multi-industry energy magazine — and BIC Media Solutions (BMS) have joined forces with Scene Magazine — Louisiana's entertainment magazine — in an effort to expand its presence in Louisiana for BIC Alliance and its 350 plus marketing partners, according to Baton Rouge publisher Earl Heard.

Scene Magazine is an all glossy, full-color magazine that is published six times a year and, like BIC Magazine, has a niche that enables them to provide articles and interviews that other Louisiana business, lifestyle and entertainment magazines have trouble getting. It is also the inflight magazine for the red eye from Los Angeles to New Orleans. (Scene Magazine is available on-line at www.sceneLouisiana.com.)

Heard said, "In addition to being media partners with Scene Magazine, we will also be acting as media advisors and helping them with editorial ideas, distribution and sales. Just as we grew BIC Magazine to become America's most popular and most read multi-industry energy magazine we expect Scene Magazine to become Louisiana's premier entertainment magazine for film, music and fashion."

Freneau, Shelton On Opposite Sides

Controversies on Baton Rouge Loop, CH2MHill, Public Records, Districts

CENTRAL — Central mayoral candidate Dave Freneau has taken a number of controversial stands on issues facing the Central City Council, and those positions are likely to be issues in the upcoming race for Mayor of the City of Central. His opponent is Jr. Shelton, who narrowly lost the post in 2010 to incumbent Mac Watts.

Some of the controversies are

• CH2MHill — In October 2010, Freneau spoke out at the City Council meeting against terminating the city's contract with CH2MHill, the private contractor which was administering the City of Central at the time. In August 2010, the company had been ordered by the City Council to release public records sought by the Central City News, but the company refused to honor the Council's request. At the October meeting, the Council was considering whether to cancel or at least not renew the contract. Freneau opposed giving notice of non-renewal as premature. However, Councilman Ralph Washington warned that a failure by the Council to act could result in the contract being automatically renewed. The Council voted to give CH2MHill notice that its contract would not be renewed. Ultimately, another firm was hired in its place.

• Public Records — In November 2010, the City Council was considering whether to order the City Attorney to release her billing records to the City of Central, after it was disclosed that she had been paid more than $700,000 by the city and the school board. The City Attorney had released copies of her bills but with virtually everything blacked out. Freneau spoke at the Council meeting against requiring her to release the unredacted records. Furthermore, he objected to use of the Public Records Act to obtain records and said citizens should approach City Council members and ask them to try to get records they want to see.

• Reapportionment — In September 2011, the Central City Council was considering whether to adopt a new reapportionment plan for the election of Council members in the future. A study committee appointed by Mayor Mac Watts recommended that the Council have seven City Council members with five elected from single member districts and two elected at-large. Jr. Shelton, now a candidate for Mayor, served as a member of the advisory committee that recommended the new plan. He spoke in favor of the combination of single member districts and at-large representatives. Freneau spoke against the reapportionment plan, and said he favored a five-member Council made up exclusively of members elected from single member districts. He accused those who favored the combination of single member districts and at-large representatives of being for "big government." The City Council adopted the plan Shelton favored but Mayor Mac Watts vetoed it. As a result, the old reapportionment plan stayed in effect, and in next spring's election, there will be no single member districts, and all five Councilmen will continue to be elected at-large.

• Baton Rouge Loop — In January 2012, the Central City Council considered whether to exercise its power, as provided by state law, to prohibit the construction of the Baton Rouge Loop through Central. The preliminary plan had it cutting straight across the city. Freneau spoke against the resolution to block the Loop coming through Central, while Shelton spoke in favor. The resolution passed, the Loop is now banned from coming through Central.

Jr. Shelton Begins Mayor Campaign

CENTRAL — Jr. Shelton kicked off his campaign for mayor of the City of Central with a jambalaya at the home of Gil and Michelle Matherne. The event was hosted by Brennan and Rhonda Easley.

Attendees included Rep. Barry Ivey, Mayor Pro-Tem Ralph Washington, Councilman Wayne Messina, Council candidates Kim Fralick, John Vance, and Harry Rauls, and police chief candidate James Salsbury.

Shelton spoke on his vision for the city. He spoke about the need to make a break with the past, his proposal for a comprehensive drainage plan, and the need for economic development.

Shelton said, "The mayor should take the lead in bringing jobs, goods, and services to the City of Central.

"The mayor should insure that our residential growth works together with commercial and retail growth, so that development does not create a burden on the rural fabric of our community," he said.

Shelton stressed the need to work with the Police Chief to help ensure safety in our homes and on our streets.

"Most important of all, the mayor is the citizens' employee. It is a position of service, not of power, and I want to serve the citizens."

Pro-Life Advocate Sen. Mike Cross Dies

Father of 6 Lost Fight To Cancer

BAKER — Former Baker Mayor and State Sen. Mike Cross passed away Nov. 18 after a battle with cancer.

Cross, who was the father of six, served on the Baker City Council for four years, as mayor for five years, and in the Louisiana Senate for nearly 16 years. He was one of the last of the conservative Democrats to serve in the Louisiana Legislature.

Cross gained national recognition for his efforts to protect unborn children. He was the lead Senate author of the Human Life Amendment, which protected all human life from the moment of conception.

He was one of the most popular senators among his colleagues and was known for his easy smile and quick wit. The fact that he was a Democrat who was popular with other senators made it difficult for political opponents to marginalize him.

Although not an attorney, he had an attorney's mind and spent great effort to learn the in's and out's of the legal issues on important bills. As a result, he stood toe to toe with the best lawyers in the Senate and often outmaneuvered them.

He was also a passionate supporter of home schooling. He and his wife Kristie homeschooled their own children and felt every parent should have that right.

Coming from North Baton Rouge, he was Former Sen. Mike Cross passed away Nov. 18, 2013, at his home in Baker.

Former Baker Mayor, 4-Time Senator Had Big Heart for Unborn Children And Championed Home Schooling

an ardent defender of the ordinary citizen, the blue collar worker, and the small business owner. He was never too busy to spend time with those who needed his help, both when he was in public office and after he left public service.

He was a passionate Christian who loved the Lord and was always trying to make sure he lived life the way he was supposed to. And he was constantly inspired and encouraged by his pastor and neighbor, Larry Stockstill.

After leaving the legislature, he represented the Louisiana Municipal Association and CLECO. This allowed him to do much of his work at home, which made him happy because his family was the center of his life.

Cross' bill on the right to life prohibited abortion except to save the life of the mother. It purposely made no exception for rape or incest. He said that understanding the rape and incest exception is the key to winning the constitutional debate on abortion.

He said, "The U.S. Constitution says that no person shall be deprived of life without due process of law. The key question is who is a 'person'?"

"Being a civil law jurisdiction, Louisiana law has always answered that question clearly and unequivocally. The Louisiana Civil Code of 1820 said, 'The unborn child in the mother's womb is a person for all purposes from the moment of conception.' That was 1820, and they had it right."

"Under Louisiana's civil law, the unborn is a legal person with rights. Our entire case is that the unborn child is a legal person. You cannot say, oh, unless of course, someone says they were raped. That was the very essence of the Roe v. Wade case. Jane Roe claimed she was raped. Then in 1987, she admitted she wasn't raped. The principle here is that no one can be deprived of life without due process of law. The personhood of the unborn child is the key to winning the abortion debate in the courts and in the court of public opinion."

He is survived by his wife Kristie, four sons, Shane Michael, Clifton Lance, Ryan Michael, and Matthew, and two daughters, Lauren Adrienne and Christen Jo-anna.

Editor's Note: I had the pleasure of serving with Mike Cross in the legislature and working closely with him on pro-life legislation.

I never knew a man more able and true or more courageous. He was willing to sacrifice everything to do what was right, especially when it came to children.

Whatever the cause or the battle, he was capable, fearless, and tireless. He also made each battle fun and interesting.

He had his priorities right: Home and family, God and country.

He had no fear of dying, because he had read the end of the book.

There's one more star in the heavens now, shining down on us.
